

January 2001

"INSPIRATION"

Jillian Y. Gronski

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.uvm.edu/tvc>

Part of the Higher Education Administration Commons

Recommended Citation

Gronski, Jillian Y. (2001) ""INSPIRATION"," The Vermont Connection: Vol. 22 , Article 11.

Available at: <https://scholarworks.uvm.edu/tvc/vol22/iss1/11>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the College of Education and Social Services at ScholarWorks @ UVM. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Vermont Connection by an authorized editor of ScholarWorks @ UVM. For more information, please contact donna.omalley@uvm.edu.

"INSPIRATION"

Jillian Y. Gronski

Author's Note: One can delve into the poem below and take from it many things. Your own interpretation is as individual as you are. I derive from it the "will to inspire." It is this intangible being, known as inspiration, which is the fundamental cornerstone of my educational philosophy within the academy.

I foresee my career to take many twists and turns. Each day will be new, some more exciting and challenging than others. The one common denominator that will remain, however, is my belief that each student can make his or her world a better place. The understanding that each student possesses a special uniqueness, all to themselves. And finally, our lot in life - to INSPIRE.

"INSPIRATION"

Inspiration be what it may-
But be it unto me
Thus one day I will share-
Share it with you
And so cycles will run-
From being to being
Soul to soul
May the inspiration bestowed on you-
Touch all the facets of your day
INSPIRE