A Pamphlet to Aid the Unhoused in Burlington Find Housing and Food Resources, as well as Deal with Sharps Safely

Thomas Chittenden Health Center

Zach Kramer
January 2024
From the people that I talked to at my clinic and the unhoused members of the community that were kind enough to speak to me, there is a lack of accessible printed information to inform the unhoused and financially insecure members of the Burlington community on what resources are available to them. As well, one person mentioned that information on how to deal with sharps and needles safely would be useful.

AHEC Focus Area - Social Determinants of Health
The public health cost is felt in the suffering of the members of the Burlington community. Additionally, sharps being handled unsafely on the streets of Burlington causes increased health spending. I have also heard anecdotally and from reading news articles that the unhoused population in Burlington has expanded rapidly recently, increasing drug use as well. Finally, I have seen the costs of homelessness in the emergency department at UVMMC and how the ED often acts as the safety net for unsafe conditions and increasing mental health problems as a result.

“Vermont has the second-highest per-capita rate of homelessness in the country, behind only California. “

“Based on a nationwide tally taken last January, the federal government estimates that 43.1 out of every 10,000 Vermonters are unhoused. “

Slide Four - Community Perspective on Issue

Lisa Anderson - Social Worker at Thomas Chittenden Health Center who told me about the resources that she most frequently connects people to, the resources she has most success connecting people to, and someone who will hopefully distribute the pamphlets.

Ernest - Former member of the Burlington unhoused community who had to leave for Arizona due to the lack of resources and told me all of the problems that he faced in Burlington.
I created a pamphlet of the current housing and food insecurity resources that are available to Burlington residents in need, as well as including information on how to dispose of sharps safely on the street. I spoke to Lisa Anderson and Ernest, who told me which resources would be most valuable to include in the pamphlet, as well as a physician at the community health center of Burlington, who told me that information on how to deal with sharps would be helpful as he had seen an increase in sharps related injuries. I called all of the resources on the list to make sure that they were operational and to confirm their hours, and researched information on several different department of health websites to find a consensus on how to safely deal with sharps.
I have created the pamphlet, which I hope to distribute at my clinic and around Burlington, so that people can easily access it or give it to someone they know in need. It is attached as the next two slides.

Burlington Resources for Those in Need

If you think you or someone else you know is in need of support, please call Vermont 2-1-1 or look inside this pamphlet for a list of resources.
Safe Needle Disposal Sites

1) HOWARD CENTER SAFE RECOVERY
45 Clark Street, Burlington, VT 05401

2) VERMONT DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH
108 Cherry Street, Burlington, VT 05401

How to Deal with Sharps Safely

1) Look for an official sharps disposal container
2) If one is not available, find a hard glass or plastic bottle
3) Pick it up with tongs or heavy gloves, keeping the sharp end away from you at all times
4) Set the bottle on the ground and drop the sharp into it
5) Seal the container and gently place it into a dumpster or trash can
I hope to contact my clinic in monthly intervals to see if they are distributing the pamphlets and if they are useful, as well as monitor how many of them are taken from public places that I distribute them (such as grocery stores, the Howard Center, etc.). It will be difficult to measure if people actually use the information or the pamphlets, but I hope that their rate of disappearance will be an acceptable proxy.
I think that more pamphlets focusing on other resources that people need, such as transportation, legal help, and health care would be useful. Additionally, a project conducting more widespread interviews and finding out what is the most pressing need in Burlington at future times would be very helpful.
